Wanted: Treasury Secretary

Position Description:

To provide leadership in the fight against global poverty by working to provide full debt cancellation to all impoverished countries, without requiring the implementation of harmful economic policies such as spending restrictions on healthcare and education.

The Secretary should also work with international partners to cancel odious and unjust debts and to develop a framework for responsible lending in the future.

Seeking candidates with extensive experience in World Bank/IMF policy and procedures. Extensive travel required.

The Treasury Secretary will report directly to The President and be accountable to the people of the United States and the global community. - Washington D.C. Based
